General Queries

Will exams remain online for the duration of 2024/2025?

Exams will continue to be held online for the foreseeable future, including Summer exams. There are limited exceptions to this for certain programmes. If your programme is an exception, you will be informed of this during the academic year.

Will all lectures be recorded and available after the live delivery?

Yes, other than a small number of modules where the content or discussion in the class is sensitive and unsuitable for recording. In this instance there will still be a recording of the key points of the class. Recordings are not a replacement for attending your lectures.

After this two-week window has elapsed, it will not be possible to change your modules. This is valid for elective modules only: compulsory modules cannot be changed. You will be informed if your programme has any elective modules.

Medical Information

What do I do if I get sick when I am in Ireland?

If you get sick while you're in Ireland, here are some steps you can take to ensure you receive the appropriate care and assistance:

Assess Your Condition: Determine the severity of your illness. If it's a minor ailment that you can manage with over-the-counter medication, you might not need immediate medical attention. However, if your condition is serious or worsening, seek medical help promptly.

Contact a Doctor or GP: If you need medical attention, you can call a local doctor (General Practitioner or GP) to schedule an appointment. They can provide advice, diagnose your condition, and recommend appropriate treatment.

Which Doctor or GP should I visit?

DBS has partnered with Dame Street Medical, as our chosen student medical centre should students require a doctor's appointment. As many students may require a GP whilst studying, we believe this partnership will be beneficial to students due to its close proximity to the DBS campus.

Dame Street Medical is now taking on new patients and registering is extremely easy. To register simply book an appointment to see one of their doctors.

To book an appointment:

Call (01 6790754) or email damestreetmedicalcentre@gmail.com

Read more here.

What other medical options do I have outside of a GP?

Visit a Pharmacy: For minor illnesses or common ailments, you can visit a pharmacy (chemist) for advice and over-the-counter medications. Pharmacists in Ireland can provide guidance on non-prescription remedies.

Hospital or Emergency Care: In case of a medical emergency or if your condition is severe, go to the nearest hospital emergency department. Dial 112 or 999 for emergency services in Ireland.

Travel Insurance: If you have travel insurance, contact your insurance provider to understand the coverage and procedures for seeking medical care. They can guide you on how to proceed and what documentation you might need.

Public Health Clinics: Depending on the nature of your illness, you might be able to visit a public health clinic or urgent care center for non-emergencies.

Language Barrier: If English is not your first language and you're having trouble communicating your symptoms, consider having a local friend or someone who speaks English accompany you to the medical facility.

Prescription Medication: If a doctor prescribes medication, you can have it filled at a pharmacy. Keep in mind that some medications that are available over the counter in other countries might require a prescription in Ireland.

Rest and Hydration: Regardless of the severity of your illness, make sure to rest, stay hydrated, and follow any medical advice you receive.

Stay Informed: Keep up to date with local health advisories, especially if there are any specific health concerns or outbreaks in the area.

Remember that it's important to seek appropriate medical care when needed. If you're unsure about the best course of action, don't hesitate to ask locals or staff at your accommodation for guidance. It's also recommended to have a basic understanding of your travel insurance coverage before you travel to ensure you know what to do in case of illness.
